

Task 1 High-Scoring Sample Response

I personally think it's better to live in a big city than in a small town.

One reason is that cities offer more opportunities for work and education. For example, when I moved to the city, I found many internships and training programs that were not available in my small hometown. These experiences helped me build a strong career.

Another reason is that big cities have more entertainment and cultural events. For instance, I often visit museums, concerts, and festivals on weekends, which makes my life more exciting and enjoyable. In a small town, there were fewer options for activities.

For these reasons, I believe living in a big city provides more chances for personal and professional growth compared to living in a small town.
